Thrifty Drug Gets Lemon Grove Site

Thrifty Drug Stores, the second largest drug chain in the United States (1st.—Walgreen) and the largest on the west coast, will open in Lemon Grove about Easter-time next year, according to the Percy H. Goodwin Co. of San Diego.

A lease arrangement was worked out this week by Charles W. Decker, of the Goodwin El Cajon office, and Sonka Brothers, of Lemon Grove.

The Sonka Brothers firm, now comprising Mrs. Emil (Amy) Sonka and her brother-in-law, Tony Sonka, said the estimated cost of the development is $250,000. The building will occupy 18,036 square feet on Imperial ave. near Golden on the property between the First National Bank and Food Basket Market.

Thrifty Drugs has 11 stores in San Diego County at present and probably will have 12 before the Lemon Grove store is opened, said Manny Borun, vice-president of Thrifty.

The firm, founded in 1929, has has 219 stores at present There will be a total of about 250 by the time the Lemon Grove store opens, Borun said.

"We are looking forward to opening in Lemon Grove with great anticipation," Borun said. In our opinion, Lemon Grove and the surrounding area provides a solid base for the operation of a store such as we plan. We have great faith in the Lemon Grove area."

He said the store would be a combination drug, variety and junior department store, similar to the rest of the stores in the Thrifty chain.

"We have been successful because we offer far more selection than shoppers ordinarily get. During our 34 years of operation we have consistently sold top quality merchandise at lowest prices possible," Borun said.

The Goodwin firm said the store would provide a boost to Lemon Grove's economy by bringing many potential customers to the L.G. business district through its intensive advertising programs.

CIRCULATION OF PETITIONS for the proposed incorporation of Lemon Grove began last weekend by a volunteer committee headed by Mrs. Esther Alexander (left). Petitions must be signed by 25 per cent of the residents who own 25 percent of the assessed valuation of the land within the new boundaries of the proposed City of Lemon Gorve. Paul Reynolds, a local business man, signs petition as Ray Brehm (standing center) and Frank Armstrong (right) look on. Brehm, a local realtor, and Armstrong, a L.G. attorney, are both members of the Men's Club incorporation committee. Persons interested in circulating petitions and representatives of community organizations will meet Oct. 24, today, at 7:30 p.m. in the L.G. Junior high cafetorium. Purpose of the petitions is to bring the incorporation question to a vote and allow residents to decide on the kind of government they want to have serving them, Armstrong said.

S.V. Parade Is Climax of Promise Days

By Tom Gorton
News Editor

An air of excitement has embraced Spring Valley, an enigmatic sensation that something is going to break loose and provide the area with more "kicks" than people here have ever known.

The initial kick was the kick-off of Valley of Promise Days September 21; the literal kick will be provided by local people stomping in the streets, the powerful thrust of a Brahma bull plunging from a stall in a terrific series of leaps and bucks, and a thrilling array of bagpipers, buglers and bands in a 98-unit parade this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Last Minute Rush

In a last minute flurry, state and local paraders swelled the list of entries in the Fourth Annual American Heritage Parade, Frank Davis, parade chairman, said this week. Among the entries of the seven division parade will be ten floats, eight bands, high-stepping marching and drill units, several West Coast show riders, plus numerous, county-wide civic and community organizations.

The parade will step-off at 2 p.m. from Mount Miguel high school and will proceed south on Sweetwater road to the Bank of America building in the Spring Valley shopping Center.

"Last year's parade consisted of 90 units, but we were more particular in selecting entries for this year's parade," John Blackford, Valley of Promises Days chairman, said.

First Division

The parade, grand finale of the week-long celebration sponsored by the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, will be lead by Grand Marshall Bob Mills, of the Channel 8 Sun-Up show. Other parade dignitaries include Senator Jack Schrade, County Supervisor David Bird, and Sheriff and Mrs. Joe O'Connor, all in antique autos.

The first division of the parade also will include the U.S. Marine Corps Mounted Color Guard, Monte Vista high school band, Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce float, San Diego Puppet Lady Maire Hitchcock, the Sheriff's posse, the Rock 'N Ride mounted color guard, and Spring Valley Fire Department units.

The third division of the parade will be a Lemon Grove highlighter including equestrian A. E. "Bob" Howell, Miss Lemon Grove Marcia Manu, the Lemon Grove Junior High School Band, Pompon Corps and paradettes, L.G. Chamber of Commerce float, S.V. Girl Scouts float, Tumbleweeds mounted color guard, equestrian Earl Smart and the Heartland Cyclers.

The last four divisions of the parade, containing some 49 units, will feature floats by the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, the Casa de Oro Woman's Club, the La Presa Woman's Club, Vista Jr. Chamber of Commerce, the U.S. Naval Air Station Reserve float, plus military, Grossmont College, San Diego State College units.

Speaker Sees American-Australian Resemblance

Strikingly, the commonwealth nation of Australia has more in common with the United States than with its mother country, Great Britian, an Australian educator told the Lemon Grove Men's Club last Friday.

"The two countries are amazingly similar," Jack Clark, the Australian teacher who now is serving on the Grossmont College staff under the Fullbright Teacher Exchange Program, remarked. "Stepping from the United States into Australia is like visiting a sister country," he said.

Australians follow American merchandising trends, read more American publications than British, and watch a majority of American films. Australians have even adopted a new currency of dollars, dimes and nickles, he said, after 90 per cent of the people opposed an earlier proposal by the Australian Government to change the monetary unit to a Royal, worth 10 shillings. "People did not like the name Royal."

English 'Sent Out'

Clark, whose grandparents were English emigrants to Australia, said the country was built by people "sent out" by the British Government because they had not paid their mortgage or had committed some other misdemeanor. "The early settlers were faced with the problem of taming an enormous continent (2,974,581 sq. mi.) and, likewise, were molded by it into a sturdy, rugged race of people."

Population has increased rapidly since the end of World War II, and the country is growing on the coasts, he said. "The population has doubled in my lifetime . . . the country can easily accomodate 100 million people," Clark expounded.

Majority of Italians

The government has instigated an intensive immigration policy, with most settlers coming from Europe, and the majority of them from Italy, Clark added.

The population boost is vital to Australia's national defense, Clark said, since the continent is isolated from its mother country and is closer to the Communist camp than the Free World. National security has also created a closer tie with the United States than with England he commented.

Contrary to popular belief, he said there are no formal government restrictions barring colored races from Australia. Australia is all-white ("98 percent British stock") and the government limits immigration to people of countries dominated by Caucasians.

Education Differs

He noted a sharp difference between the U.S. and Australia in their education systems. "All teachers are trained under one, unified plan so children receive equal instruction in every state," he observed. "At the age of 11, children must decide whether they are best suited for an academic life, or training in some trade or vocation," he said. This is determined by proficiency tests, the student's own attitude and the feelings of the child's parents.

Once the decision is made, a child enters into a special vocational training school leading to a diploma in a specific trade or occupation, while those who chose an academic education go into high school and may eventually attend a university, Clark said.

Wool Main Industry

"Without wool, Australia wool flop . . . the economy of Australia is completely dependent on it," and although ranchers do not like it, they have to pay for publicity to compete with a rising market in synthetics, he said.

Clark remarked that "juvenile delinquency is unknown in Australia. Where American youths are handled with an understanding, sympathetic air, young Australians are ordered,"

Sports Lovers

We are surf-loving, sports-loving people," he concluded."The emphasis on athletic participation. rather than spectatorship is stressed in sports magazines and the very daily life of the people."

Why do the Australians excell in tennis, one man asked? Because they train with kangaroos.

Schools Recognize Need For Earlier Use Of Home Economics

Here is another in a series of articles on education as it affects your school system. The material is authoritative because it is supplied by the California Education News Service.

When Mother was a girl, she learned how to make cherry pies and a white blouse in her home economics course in high school. Today her daughter learns which brand of frozen cherry pie is best to buy in the supermarket and how to tell a well-made blouse from a poor one in the department store.

Quietly but noticeably a shift of emphasis has taken place in the teaching of home economics in California high schools. The shift is toward consumer education: The intelligent buying of food, clothing and household furnishings and equipment; how to stay within a budget; importance of planned spending and wise shopping; the use of consumer credit, etc.

Reason for this change is to be found in a fundamental transformation which has taken place in our society. We have changed from a producing to a consuming society. Fifty years ago one-third of the American people lived on farms. They produced their own food and made most of their own clothing. Now only a tiny segment of the people live on farms. We product little of what we consume. Mostly we buy it.

The housewife who spends unwisely can spend her family into trouble and put an almost intolerable strain on her marriage. Since many girls go right from high school into marriage, and their "home ec" courses may be their only preparation for marriage, the new approach has special significance.

Consumer education isn't the be-all and end-all of home economics, however. The courses also include such things as home management, family relationships and child development.

It isn't just the fact of our change from a producing to a consuming society that has altered the direction of home economics instruction. Equally fundamental is the changing role of women generally.

There are more early marriages, for one thing. There are also more teen-age mothers.

"These two changes in family life," said a home economics supervisor in one of California's large high schools, "make us realize the importance of helping young people think through and establish values which give meaning to personal and family living today."

"Men and women will marry and have children. Atomic scientists will need clothing. Nuclear physicists will eat. Spacemen will return to homes—homes managed by the girls from our schools."

Meet The Man Who Gives You Space

J. R. "Jim" Dempsey, president of General Dynamics/Astronautics, called together men of the press Friday for a "backgrounder." A "backgrounder" is an explanation of what's going on around here and is not necessarily the generator of hard news.

Surrounded by a half-dozen of his key projects scientists, he explained that "we want to give you a picture of Astronautic's role in the missile and space business, and in our community's economic future . . . and our future prospects."

What he said made a good sound.

He said that Atlas and Centaur projects were programmed

Men To Hear Talk on Taxes

John Nagy, president of Statewide Homeowners Association, will address the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday noon at Michael's on, "Taxes, Key to Industry."

John Bridger is program chairman.

The organization seeks equalized property assessments for homeowners and businessmen, and a shift in the property tax structure from improvements and personal property to land value, in order to stimulate production.

Grossmont Campus Construction Date Set

Construction of the Grossmont College campus in Fletcher Hills is expected to get under way on December 2, it was reported Monday night at a meeting of the Grossmont Junior College District Board of Trustees.

Superintendent Harold G. Hughes announced to the board that college architects are meeting early this week with representatives from the State Division of Architecture and the State Fire Marshall's Office to review revised drawings which had been changed as required by state officials.

Advertising for construction bids is anticipated by October 24, according to Hughes, which would place the bid opening date on November 19. A special meeting of the board was called for November 20 to consider bids and to award a contract to the successful bidder.

In last night's meeting the board also approved:

- A contract with San Diego State College for the accommodation of two student teachers on the Grossmont College campus.
- The request for recognition submitted by the Grossmont College Professional Association, a California Teachers Association affiliate, which includes 34 members of both the administrative and teaching faculties of the college.
- Final payment to the A. A. Baxter Corporation for excavation work in connection with the grading of the campus site. The final contract price was adjusted upward $277 reflecting a small error in previous calculations on excavation quantity.
- A request for temporary transfer of funds from the County Treasurer of $500,000 to meet operating expenses of the district until tax receipts become available after January 1.

The board also discussed a report submitted by college president John S. Hansen concerning the faculty committee structure at Grossmont College and the fall meeting of the California Junior College Association which is to be held in San Diego October 29-31.

$$$ Flow In SD Race For Mayor

Election costs, like the cost of living, appear to be rising.

Candidates for office listed with the S.D. City clerk this week, the amount of money spent to make the race.

Murray Goodrich was top spender. His campaign cost his supporters $37,181 and he shelled out $328 of his own dough, he said, but he got into the November 5 runoff with Councilman Frank Curran who spent $24,260.

City Councilman Allen Hitch blew $25,700 but failed to make it. Attorney Dave Casey spent $17,994 in his unsuccessful bid. Gerard Doughtery spent $207 and Juan Rosario spent $25.

William Hartley, also an unsuccessful candidate spent $2,314.

The mayor's job pays $12,500 a year.

For Board of Education, F. W. Hansen, $146 of his own money collected and spent; Clifford Shoemaker, less than $200 spent; the Rev. George Walker Smith, $1,140 collected and $1,119 spent; William McKinley, $1,603 collected and spent; Claude Ford, less than $200.

For City Council, Tony Combs, $2,896 collected and spent, City Councilman Ivor de Kirby, $6,025 collected and $5,669 spent.

DeKirby and Smith will bein the runoffs in November.

64-Year-Old Salesman Gets Prison Rap

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Herbert H. Powell, 64, 569 Olive st., Spring Valley, has been sent to state prison for going on a bad check "flooding" operation in which in a few days in June he cashed $1,176 in bad checks.

Superior Court Judge William P. Mahedy in giving Powell the up to 10 year sentence called him a thief and a crook.

The probation report reveals that Powell wrote the bad checks at many stores after establishing token bank accounts in several banks and branches. He has also had several civil transactions that left other people with promissory notes but no cash.

Powell's attorney, J. Robert O'Connor, told the court that Powell had not been in trouble for 13 years and that he lived for his three children whose ages are five, 10 and 12. He said Powell had intended to make the checks good.

Powell, a promotion man and advertising salesman, has been in prison before from operating con games in Oklahoma and Illinois.

The probation report says, "In addition to writing a very large quantity of worthless

High School Tax Measure Passage Not To Raise Rate

Residents in the sprawling Grossmont high school district will vote on two issues Tuesday in an election which has generated only medium interest.

In neither instance will a "yes" vote increase the tax burden of district residents.

On one issue, voter will be asked to approve the continuation for 5 years of the $1.50 operating tax rate. Without approval, the rate would automatically fall to 75 cents which district officials say would wreck the program for 14,000 high school students.

On the other issue, that of bonds, $1,600,000 is needed to build a high school at Santee. $2,800,000 is needed to repay an existing state loan. By borrowing $4,400,000, funds will be available to build the new school and pay off the $2,800,000 debt. School authorities point out that no financial hokuspokus is involved — the total indebtedness will be increased by the cost of the Santee school, but interest rates are much lower now than when the original loan was taken that as much as 25% may be saved in service costs.

The interest rate could be as low as three percent. Existing loan rate is 3.85 percent. The tax rate in state bonds is a maximum of 45 cents. When the state loan is repaid the cost of principal and interest on all local bonds will not exceed the 45 cent current rate. Officials say that a slight reduction might be enjoyed with the state paid off.

Proponents say (and there have been no opposing groups) that successful passage will build the new high school; avert half day sessions; permit additions to other schools without additional tax cost, and reduce interest rates.

Failure of the election will not reduce the bond rate for at least eight years; block the building program, and continue the higher tax rates. A reduction in bond rates could come after eight years, school authorities pointed out.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and in most instances, the voting place is the school near the voter's residence.

Social Security Question Box

By Guy Decks

QUESTION—
I quit farming a few months ago to move here and retire on Social Security. I had thought I was going to rent the farm, but now I have a chance to sell at a good price. Will the money I get from the sale prevent me from getting my Social Security payments?

ANSWER—
If your earnings in the year do not exceed $1200, you can receive benefits for all months in which you are otherwise entitled. Proceeds from the sale of land, equipment and other assets not raised or held for market are not included as earnings. In addition benefits are not withheld for months in which you don't render substantial services unless you earn over $100 in wages in those months as an employee.

QUESTION—
My son is getting Social Security benefits on account of his father's death. He will be 18 years old next month. Can he continue to get the benefits to help pay his way through college?

ANSWER—
No. The check he gets for this month will be his last unless it is established that he is disabled for substantially gainful employment.

Kiwanis To Sell Boxcar of Apples

A thousand cases of apples will be sold this week by Lemon Grove Kiwanis club members with proceeds going into local youth projects, Jack Durham, club president announced.

The thousand cases, filling a railroad boxcar, is being distributed this week by the Kiwanis Apple Day Committee comprising every member of the local club. Sam Pernicano, project chairman, said the fruit is freshly picked Starking Red Washington Delicious apples which he ordered by 'phone Monday. The boxcar full arrived here Wednesday and are being distributed by Kiwanis club members.

Cost of the apples is $7 a case but may be purchased in half or quarter case lots for $3.50 and $1.75 respectively. Apples may be picked up at the Lemon Grove rail siding at Imperial and North, in front of the Grove Mart on Broadway, or they will be delivered to those who request it. Orders may be placed by 'phone to any Kiwanis member, the Chamber of Commerce or the office of this newspaper. Pernicano said he would have a dozen cases in his cafe for quick sale.

Last year the club sold a carload lot of 1,000 cases.

The apple project has been held annually here for the past six years, Pernicano said.

Serving with Pernicano are Kiwanis members Art Helphand, Ken Conrad and Byron Netzley.

L.G. Young GOPs Admonish Booklet

Lemon Grove Young Republicans have joined the California Republican Assembly in opposing the policies of the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare booklet entitled, Unmarried Parents—A Guide for the Development of Service in Public Welfare. The Young Republicans say in their resolution that the booklet encourages illegitimacy.

Ronald Steele, president of the Lemon Grove group, noted that a similar resolution was passed last week by the County Y.R.'s.

"We here in the Grove made it our business to study the booklet and found ourselves in complete agreement with District Attorney Don Keller who was the first to expose the booklet," Steele said. "After careful study it's hard to understand how Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin could possibly side with the booklet's policies which he has obviously done by accusing Mr. Keller of taking material out of context.

"Its' also unfortunate that Mr. Van Deerlin has apparently tried to make this issue a partisan one, when it's clearly a moral one," Steele concluded, "And we urge the citizens to inform themselves as to this gross misuse of taxpayers funds," he said.

at full tilt all the way through 1964. Beyond that it would be strictly guesswork about NASA and other government agencies and the state of the world.

"Early this year we anticipated a cutback in personnel but it proved unnecessary and now we see the employment level holding steady at 21,500 with a steady payroll of $180 million. This level will not drop during 1964, he added.

It would have been a lot easier to imagine it was a convention of science-fiction writers rather than men dealing with hard, scientific realities. Because Astronautics must deal with scientific fact so that its missile product may successfully perform the earth, orbital and outer space chores assigned to them, Dempsey's observations were all the more intriguing.

"There is definitely life and humans on other plants but perhaps not in our galaxy."

"The moon is rock covered by a thin layer of dust."

"The time-space-speed phenomena permits a person in high velocity (faster than the speed of light) space travel to age at a slower rate than those on earth." (An astronaut traveling at high velocity for a week by his own calendar and clock could find that several months had elapsed on earth during his absence.

"We will be commuting to one of our own space stations within the decade."

"Our people's sleepy attitude (about communism) makes me nervous.

"Technological advances and by-product problems in the next generation will make this appear to have been a peaceful, happy generation."

And finally on the accelerated tempo of the need for knowledge: "A hundred years ago you could learn from your father all you needed to know in a lifetime. Today, you can't even learn enough in schools to meet the need."

It's a frightening, exciting future Jim Dempsey paints for tomorrow's adults. There will surely be enough challenges to satisfy every one of scientific bent.

Raiders, Chargers Clash Here Sunday

SAN DIEGO—A "new" series, one of true civil war, intrastate significance featuring the San Diego Chargers and the Oakland Raiders, presents chapter No. 1 Sunday when the San Diegans play host to Northern California's representatives in Balboa Stadium. The kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

ABC Television will beam the game to the Bay area, while the Chargers' radio network (KFMB in San Diego) airs the action with Lyle Bond and Lute Mason doing the commentary.

The Chargers will salute Chula Vista, National City and the United States Navy as part of their community and military relations programs.

"This Oakland team is nothing like the ones of old," says Charger head coach Sid Gillman. "Everything is different, even the uniforms. Al Davis, Raider head coach and general manager, has done an amazing job in so little time."

What Gillman has reference to is that the Raiders, losers to the Chargers in all 10 previous meetings, pose a great threat to the Western Division leaders Sunday. The Raiders are the Chargers' closest pursuers with a 3-4 record. The Chargers possess a 5-1 mark.

"They're right in the thick of things with a victory," continues Gillman, "with us due to go on the three-game Eastern swing. Plus, when you consider that they have allowed two less points in one more game than the Chargers, you must realize that they mean business."

Oakland has defeated Houston, 24-13, Buffalo, 35-17, and New York (Sunday), 49-26, and lost to Boston (twice), 20-14, New York 10-7, and Buffalo, 12-0.

San Diego has trimmed Buffalo, 14-10, Boston, 17-13, Kansas City, 24-10 and 38-17, and New York, 24-20, and lost to Denver 50-34.

Grossmont Harriers Win Seventh Meet

Grossmont College's cross-country squad remained unbeaten with a 22-34 win over San Bernardino Saturday at Cal Western.

The Griffin harriers have now won seven straight although they were tied by Santa Ana early in the season.

San Bernardino's Bill Carson won the race but the Griffins finished 2-3-4-5 from there to squelch the Indians' chances.

Grossmont will travel to Mt. San Antonio Friday to compete in the Mt. SAC Invitation Cross Country Meet in which over 200 college athletes and 3,000 high school distance runners will be entered.

Results: Carson (SB), Johnson (G), Phillips (G), Mathus (G), Elmore, (G), Roberston (SB), Jones (G), Stauble (SB), Caster (G).

Time—17:16, Distance—3.14.

PIRATE PLUNGE — Orange Coast College halfback Mike Hunter (26) lowers his head to charge through Grossmont College defensive wingman Bob Christian (23) to help the OCC grid forces to a 48 to 7 win over Grossmont. The game was played at OCC October 10.

Griffins Yield To Pirates 48-7

COSTA MESA — "We played three quarters of our best football all season, but we were playing the best junior college team I have ever seen," said Jim Erkenbeck, Grossmont College football coach, after his Griffins lost to Orange Coast College 48-7.

The Pirates, second ranked JC unit in the nation, won their fifth straight, losing none.

However, the Griffins can point out that they were the first team to hold a lead over the powerful Pirates so far this season and also the team to score the most points against Orange Coast in five games.

Russ Eckhardt, Grossmont's sparkplug tailback, opened the scoring with a four yard run on an end sweep early in the first period. Wayne Carroll kicked the extra point.

The Pirates were held scoreless by Grossmont until 10:35 of the second quarter when Bob Haynes of the Pirates dented the Griffin goal line. Haynes booted the PAT, tying it up 7-7.

Orange Coast scored again on Jeff Thayer's 22 yard run midway through the second stanza and this put Orange Coast in front, 14-7.

Grossmont limited the Pirates to one touchdown in the third quarter (26 yard pass interception by Bill Autry) but weakened in the last quarter as Orange Coast totaled 28 points, two touchdowns coming from Mike Hunter.

Grossmont plays Citrus JC Saturday night in Helix Stadium and will be looking for their first home win.

NEW SPORTS ARENA PLANNED FOR S.D.

Robert Breitbard, San Diego sportsman and businessman, announced the selection of the team of Charles Luckman Associates of Los Angeles and Richard George Wheeler, AIA & Associates of San Diego to plan and design San Diego's multi-million dollar sports arena, which will seat up to 13,500 people. The arena will be located in the Midway and Frontier area.

"When completed, San Diego's sports arena will rival those in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, and other major U.S. cities," Breitbard said.

Matadors Crush Monarchs Rushing

Mount Miguel high school gridders out-flanked and outmatched the Monte Vista Monarchs last Friday night in a 25-0 game.

In the closing quarters of the game, Matador Coach Harry Johnston put in his second string using as many of his players as he could, and experimenting with new field tactics.

The Matador thrust was led by Jon Mimich who scored both touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters.

Dave Schroeder, fullback, sparked Mount Miguel teammates in the first quarter when he ran 48 yards for a touchdown. Likewise, halfback Jim Nicodemus carried the pigskin another 48 yards in the second quarter racking up the Matadors second score.

Tackle Lou Clark, who had a perfect punting record until Friday night's game, succeeded in kicking only one out of four conversions.

Mount Miguel gained 382 yards rushing and 20 passing.

Mail Carriers Open Retirement Home To All

Don Johnson, president of the Lemon Grove branch of National Association of Letter Carriers, announced this week that any retired person may now join letter carriers in their new Florida retirement community, NALCREST (National Assn. of Letter Carriers).

According to Johnson, NALCREST was originally built as a retirement haven for letter carriers. However, realizing that others would enjoy this type of retirement living, the letter carriers enlarged the scope of their project to accommodate any retiree from this community.

NALCREST is a four and one-half million dollar self-contained community in central Florida with its own shopping center, post office, 500-seat auditorium, marina, swimming pool with cabanas and all the other services necessary for modern living. In addition, the community has 1,300 feet of private lake frontage and facilities for some of the best fishing and hunting to be found anywhere in the United States. Encompassing 150 acres and containing 500 apartment units, NALCREST is designed especially to suit the needs of senior citizens.

Bantams Score Fourth Victory

Teamwork and conditioning were attributed by Coach Shorty Bannister this week for his Pop Warner gridders' success when they nailed Kearny Mesa 20 to 7 for their fourth successive win.

Bannister's team, the Los Toros Football Club Bantams, defeated Kearny Mesa last Saturday under the leadership of halfback Paul Thomas.

Thomas scored the Bantams first touchdown in the first minute and a half of play. Thomas was injured, and, after returning to action in the third quarter, scored another touchdown within two minutes, and scored a third touchdown in the last quarter.

In other action, the Los Toros Pee Wee A team succumbed to El Cajon 26-6 and the Pee Wee B team lost to Balboa 41 to 0.

This Saturday the Bantams will play Clairemont on the Mt. Miguel field at 2:30 p.m. The Los Toros Midgets will play St. Patrick's at the University of San Diego at 11:30 a.m.

The Pee Wee A team will play La Mesa at Helix high Saturday at 1 p.m., and the Pee Wee B's vs. Kearny Mesa at 1 p.m. on the Mt. Miguel field.

Only three generations ago a man could learn everything he had to know about life from his father. Today, a college education only begins to meet man's requirements for existence.

Efficiency and one one-bedroom apartments are available on a non-profit basis ranging from $69.50 to $74.50 per month.

President Johnson has requested that those interested in the local letter carrier's invitation can contact him at HO 9-4070 or write to Don Johnson 8109 Mazer st., Lemon Grove.

OVERINFLATED TIRES ADD LITTLE TO GAS ECONOMY. It's true that overinflated tires do reduce road friction somewhat, since less tire surface actually touches the road. But the small gas savings are no compensation for worn-out, over-stressed tires and the expense of replacing them. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In recent weeks there have been printed some letters from a small, but highly vocal group of parents in the San Altos school area concerning the transfer of a class of kindergarten children from San Altos to Vista La Mesa school.

As satisfied, long-time residents of this area, we feel a need to write and defend the school and its administrators.

In the first place, Lemon Grove School District, as a whole, has a distinguished reputation for good administration, quality teaching and good parent-school relationships. As parents, we have found the teachers and administrators to be interested in providing the best possible education for the most possible students, with everyone receiving equal opportunity and fair treatment. When questions or problems have arisen from time to time, we have found the school personnel to be very courteous and cooperative in finding a fair solution. This, for us at San Altos, has been the accepted situation for five years.

The unhappy group of parents has moved into this area in the past few months. Most of them entered the San Altos school area in April, 1963. At most, their experience has been limited to two or three months of school participation. During this time, most of their energy has been channeled into destructive criticism and neighborhood hysteria over an enrollment problem that could not have been expected or avoided.

The facts are as follows:

1. During the Kindergarten pre-enrollment, the projection at San Altos was 60 kindergarten children. On opening day, 85 children arrived. Nineteen of the extra 25 were absorbed, making classes of 39 and 40. 7 over the accepted rule for kindergarten classes. Meanwhile, it was learned that Vista La Mesa School could readily house the other eight children.

2. Bus transportation costs the taxpayers 50 cents per mile. Ours being a conservative principal, it was decided that it would be the most economic procedure to pick up one central group and transfer them by bus to Vista La Mesa. Since several of these children lived on one street in Berryville Hills, this group was selected. In no way were these people discriminated against personally. This was a decision of pure economics; a fact we tax-payers appreciate.

3. No child is hurt by bus transportation of 2½ miles; generally speaking, the children love the ride; and the idea of kindergarten children's time being wasted is a near absurdity. These children actually benefit greatly from the smaller class situation.

4. Almost every area of San Altos has at one time or another had to send its children to another school for a year. This is a fast-growing area of families with several children in primary school. It would be very wasteful to build one or two classrooms here, when a neighboring school has an empty room where the children may be housed.

This year it was necessary to send the entire sixth grade to the Lemon Grove Junior High because a population shift caused the expected enrollment to be much lower than the actual number of children that registered on opening day. These parents have accepted the situation with characteristic good grace after seeing that their children were adjusting easily to the change. Also, with this many children attending other schools, the Board of Education is planning the construction of a four-classroom wing to be completed by next fall.

5. These few individuals have caused undue, unnecessary pressure to be exerted on the school principal in a situation over which he used good and prudent judgement. They have attempted to gain their personal gain and selfish interests at the expense of the best interests of the general residents and the school as a whole.

6. No school district is perfect, because people are not perfect, and if a public school is anything, it is the people. However, we sincerely believe that if an over-all poll was taken, the level-headed, interested and satisfied parents would far outnumber this type of group.

Working together in unity and harmony, we can hope to build better and better school and education systems for our children, but San Diego and California as a whole seems to have become a feeding ground for the little pressure groups who want their point of view to be heard and enforced on the people at all costs. Also, we resent having our school's reputation, and ultimately our own, tarnished by their much speaking, while reasonable facts remain unknown.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pumphrey
Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ryan
Mr. and Mrs. John Trask

Dressing Up For Holiday Season

Dear Editor:

Most of the communities in the east county are beginning to take a look at themselves to make certain that their prettiest faces are presented to the public as the holiday season nears.

It should be pointed out in Lemon Grove, where the guidance comes only from a small, dedicated group of business people, such a program is beginning to take shape also.

For example, along Broadway, near Harris street, face-lifting was given to a group of buildings which are mostly unoccupied. The buildings were repainted in deep California brown, trimmed in white and the work has vastly improved the appearance of all the area surrounding it.

As chairman of the Merchants Division of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce, I think all other building owners should take a hard look at their property in the downtown sector to make sure the entire community presents the brightest face possible

Appreciatively,
Don Johns.

AMERICAN PRINCIPLES RE-EDUCATION NEEDED

Dear Editor,

If Kennedy stayes in power or if some liberal Republican is elected to succeed him, the drive toward world government will quicken disastrously.

The ultimate solution to the question of how we shall reverse the policies of the federal government, so that the United States can survive in peace as a free nation, will be found when the people elect enough constitutionalists to control Congress. But the nation may not last long enough to find that solution unless something is done in 1964 to halt the Kennedy program. Barry Goldwater as President could halt it.

For 30 years, the prestige propaganda and patronage of the White House have been exerted in the cause of totalitarian liberialism. Under this influence millions of Americans have forgotten, and more millions have grown up in ignorance of the meaning of American constitu

The few who have clung to principles (consistently criticizing the unconstitutional programs of Roosevelt, Truman Eisenhower and Kenredy) have been treated as outcasts, crackpots, extremists and trouble makers.

Clinging to principle, however, the few have had influence on public thought, and, in recent years, they have multiplied in number. The enormous job of reducating the American people to understand and respect the principles of their own society is underway. Barry Goldwater as President could complete the job in time to restore the Republic.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Thomas E. Clabby

Each year, at the holidays, this newspaper publishes Letters to Santa Claus. The Postmaster may legally pass on youngsters' letters to the local newspaper. This year the start came early.

Dear Santa:

I am a good little Indian girl and live in a foster home. I am having my foster mother write this for me and my little sister who also lives with us because we can't write ourselves. This is what I want:

A Barbie doll, a nurse kit, a Gaylord talking dog, suitcase and skates.

Leslie Mesa

Bunny wants a doctor's kit, doll clothes and a doll, a color book, and a buggy swing. Most of all we would like some letters from Santa Claus at the North Pole.

Monte Vista Sets Queen Coronation, Homecoming Game

Friday night, October 25 marks the third annual coronation of Monte Vista's Queen of the Homecoming.

Her Highness will be announced at the halftime of the Monte Vista-Grossmont game at Mt. Miguel field, and will reign over the Mardi Gras Ball following. She will be chosen by vote of the senior class on the day before the game.

Candidates for this year's homecoming queen are Sharon Corpening, Diana Peterson, Susie Sarkela, Marty Schiefer, and Jenny Shacklett.

The Monte Vista football team nominated the five finalists October 11 from eleven other girls originally nominated.

Last year's queen, Janet Weeks, will relinquish her throne to the '63-'64 queen, and her crown. Mr. and Mrs. Craig Warmer will also present the new queen with roses and place the royal robe over her shoulders.

The royal princesses will be escorted on the field in the latest model '64 hardtop coaches from two local dealers.

During this Week of Homecoming, princesses are being honored with one day all to themselves, and will be presented with corsages at Monte Vista's Friday homecoming assembly.

Also on the agenda for the week is a reception held in honor of the alumni of '62 and '63 by the seniors officers.

The Mardi Gras Ball, a senior class-sponsored affair, will be held in the Monarch gym after the game.

'Probation After Death' Is Sunday Bible Lesson

A Bible lesson on the subject of "Probation After Death" will be read this Sunday at L.G. Christian Science Society.

The performance will begin at 3 p.m. in the Peterson Gymnasium under the sponsorship of the associated students of San Diego State.

General public tickets are $3 and $2. Children under 12 will be admitted for $1. Tickets for San Diego State students are $1.50 and $1. Servicemen and other student tickets are $2 and $1.50.

"We are a cosmopolitan group," says Cornell graduate Peter Yarrow. "It would be dishonest for us to imitate the folk singing style of any particular ethnic group. But our urban background is an asset. We feel we can present in a modern musical form the feelings of many ethnic groups and do it with integrity."
